Paper Presentations
CSCE 990 – Fall 2015

I’ve asked each of you to present a paper related to your class project. Your presentation will take place in class. Here are some notes on what I expect of you.

• Use powerpoint or some other tool to create slides that can be projected. You may also use the whiteboards for parts of your presentation if necessary.

• You’ll have the entire class period, but we’d like to leave some time for discussion during and/or after you’ve done the presentation. For this reason, your presentation itself (if not interrupted) should take no more than 40 minutes. Please practice it and make sure this is possible.

• While the primary focus of your presentation is the paper that you selected, you may include other materials from other sources if necessary to motivate or further explain the paper and it’s impact.

• Somewhere in your presentation, please include a slide and a brief discussion of what your class project is, and how it is related to the paper. Probably at the end is best, but if you think it fits in somewhere else, that’s fine. (E.g., for those doing surveys, it may work best to discuss that right up front).

• All papers being presented will be read by class members, and paper reviews will be prepared by each person other than the presenter.
