Call for Papers
International Symposium on Software Testing and Analysis
ISSTA 2004
Boston, Massachusetts, July 11-14, 2004
http://www.cs.orst.edu/issta2004/

Co-Located with the 16th Computer-Aided Verification Conference (CAV 2004)

ISSTA is the leading research conference in software testing and analysis, bringing together academics, industrial researchers, and practitioners to share ideas, problems, and experiences. The ISSTA program will include workshops, papers, panels, and invited presentations.

ISSTA 2004 is co-located with the 16th Computer-Aided Verification Conference (CAV 2004, http://www.dcs.warwick.ac.uk/CAV/), at the Omni Parker House Hotel in Boston, Mass. The conferences will hold joint sessions on July 14th, and CAV will continue until the 17th. Reduced registration will be available for those attending all or part of both conferences.

CONFERENCE SCOPE

Authors are invited to submit technical papers describing original research in testing or analysis of computer software. Papers describing theoretical or empirical research, new techniques, or in-depth case studies of testing and analysis methods and tools are welcome.

Submissions are also encouraged in the following categories:
• Tools papers describing software systems of interest to ISSTA attendees;
• Proposals for posters or informal demos presenting recent or on-going research;
• Proposals for panel sessions on current testing and analysis topics.

Submissions must be original and should not have been published previously or be under consideration for publication while being evaluated for this symposium. Authors of accepted papers will be required to sign an ACM copyright release.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Technical papers must be prepared in ACM conference format, and must not exceed 11 pages in camera-ready form, including figures and references. Tools papers must use the same format but may not exceed 4 pages. Poster and informal demo proposals must describe the technology or approach without exceeding 4 pages. Panel proposals must provide a one-page description of the topic, and participant information. All submissions must be in English. Further instructions and guidelines are available on the conference web page.
